I'm running for the U.S. House of Representatives in the 2nd Congressional District because I care deeply about the issues facing our community, our state and our nation, and I have the drive, the passion and the life experience to make a positive difference. Living, working and raising my family on Kauai these past 25 years has taught me to greatly appreciate this very special rural Oahu, and Neighbor Island district. The people of Hawaii care about education, about environmental and economic sustainability, and about integrity and ethics in government. Ending the war in Iraq, protecting the freedoms and privacy of individual Americans and dealing with a monumental federal budget deficit are issues that weigh heavily on all citizens. I care deeply about these issues and am committed to working aggressively toward solving these and other challenges facing our state and nation. Over the past 8 years I have worked hard both as a member of the Kauai County Council and as a State Senator, advocating for and passing important legislation that has made a positive impact on the quality of life here in Hawaii. Serving Hawaii in Congress will provide an even greater opportunity to protect and support those values we all hold dear. I humbly ask the people of the Neighbor Islands and rural and windward Oahu to give me their vote of confidence so that I may give them my energies and my commitment in greater measure than ever before.
